The man came back later on and wanted to buy a pair of pants, and Jake relented enough to sell them to him very close, and when the "poor fellow" went to pay for them he pulled out a roll of bills of not less than $200 and said, with a grin: "They are generally easy down here, and can't all size me up like you. Ain't you from my summer home, New York?" And Jake said that he was—Ocala Star.

DRIFTED 800 MILES.

Was For Period of Thirty Days at the Mercy of the Waves.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 10.—A tale of drifting about hundred miles at the mercy of the sea, covering a period of over thirty days, is told by Nee Quot, a Chinese boatswain, rescued from the wrecked steamer Marie Chan, in False Bay, on the Alaskan coast.

The Marie Chan encountered her first difficulty about 400 miles off Cape Henry, when she suddenly sprang a leak. Work on the pumps was interrupted by clogging, and for days the boat drifted, while the crew worked night and day with hand buckets to keep the ship afloat.

From Dec. 25 to Jan. 26 this work was kept up, and the engineers were soon able to use the upper boilers.

Small headway was made, and the awnings were sewed together in a large sail. This gave almost enough headway for steering room, but not sufficient to keep the Marie Chan from striking in Chatham straits in a north-west gale.

Thirty-nine members of the crew succeeded in making the shore, where they lay for four days almost perishing in the cold, finally being rescued by the Georgia, and taken to Juena.

From Juena the refugees were taken to this city, where they were not allowed to land.

Last night they left for Port Town send on the steamer Doble.

New Orleans, La., Feb. 9.—Judge William Puga, of the state district court at Crowley, La., broke the record on short sentences. Charles Melancon, aged 16 years, was indicted for creating a disturbance at a ball. He pleaded guilty. The presenting attorney reminded the judge that a jail sentence must be administered. Judge Puga then sentenced the boy to pay a small fine and to spend one minute in jail. The fine was paid and the sheriff took the boy to a cell, closed the door on him for sixty seconds, and then turned him loose. The novel performance created considerable amusement in the county.

MOORE ENDS LIFE WITH PISTOL

Americus Man Found Dead in His Room.

Americus, Ga., Feb. 9.—Eugene Moore, 26 years of age, manager here for Clark & Co., cotton brokers, shot out his brains in his apartments at the Hotel Windsor.

Moore was a native of Albany, and came to Americus less than a month ago. He went to his office and attended to matters of business, returning later to the hotel. No one heard the shot, and a bell boy, going to the room later upon an errand, discovered the tragedy. The bullet had entered the brain and death was instantaneous. No cause can be assigned for his action.

Only ten minutes before the tragedy Moore had conversed pleasantly with people about the hotel, and had posted three letters, one to his wife, in Atlanta, with whom, it is said, he has not lived for some time. It is said his business affairs are straight and correct. A delegation of Odd Fellows from Albany arrived here to escort the remains to that city for burial.
